Everlaw Announces New Product Designer Hire

Everlaw announces the appointment of Olivia Lopez as a new product designer with the Berkeley, Calif.-based legal technology company.

A news release from the company says Lopez will lead development of the user experience and interface of Everlaw’s litigation platform and related design projects.