

Biglaw Firm Offers $10k Reward for Lead on Man Who Shot Associate

Ballard Spahr LLP has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the man who shot a Philadelphia associate of the firm.

The gunman shot 37-year-old Spencer Hill in the stomach during a botched robbery attempt as he headed home after a late night at the office, reports The Philadelphia Tribune.

He was in front of his home when the shooting occurred. He managed to make it inside his home where his wife called police. Doctors opted against operating, Hill said, indicating that it was safer to leave the bullet inside him than it would be to perform surgery to remove it.

Read the Tribune article.