

Dallas' Munck Wilson Mandala Adds Litigator Shain Khoshbin as Partner

Dallas-based technology law firm, Munck Wilson Mandala LLP announces the addition of Shain Khoshbin as a partner in the firm's Litigation Group.

Khoshbin focuses his practice on business disputes and commercial litigation, the firm said in a release. He has represented companies, partnerships, and entrepreneurs across the country on both sides of the docket. Khoshbin has worked with matters including hospitality management/franchising; intellectual property and unfair competition; and breaches of trust, fiduciary duties and complex contractual relationships.

"We are thrilled to have Shain return to the firm. He is a well-respected advocate who, over the course of his career, has built an impressive practice and has become a 'go-to attorney' for clients needing seasoned complex litigation counsel," said William A. Munck, managing partner of Munck Wilson Mandala. "Shain adds substantial experience to our talented group of commercial litigators and trial attorneys. This is a very exciting time for our firm."

"I have known Shain for over 20 years, and he excels at complex commercial litigation," said Jamil Alibhai, Chairman of the firm's Litigation Section. "He is a strong addition to Munck Wilson Mandala's trial team."

Khoshbin has been honored by Texas Super Lawyers for business litigation every year since 2007. He has been featured in the Super Lawyers Corporate Counsel and Business editions annually since 2008 and honored among the Super Lawyers Top 100 attorneys in Dallas/Fort Worth for 2011 and 2012. He is a Life Fellow of the American Bar Foundation, Life Member of The

Million Dollar Advocates Forum and Multi-Million Dollar Advocates Forum, and Lifetime Charter Member of Rue Ratings' "Best Attorneys of America."
