

Dallas Insurance, Litigation Firm Perry Law PC Celebrates Fifth Anniversary

Dallas-based Perry Law P.C. announced the celebration of the insurance coverage and litigation firm's fifth anniversary, marking its successful track record since the firm's founding by Meloney Perry in March 2013.

"I started Perry Law because I saw the need for a women-owned firm made up of strong, smart attorneys who could represent clients with a solution-driven mindset," said Meloney Perry. "Since the launch of the firm, we have grown to a full staff of women who work and communicate efficiently to get the job done. I'm proud of this milestone and look forward to our future."

Certified as a woman-owned business by the Women's Business Enterprise National Council, Perry Law represents insurance carriers across the country in coverage disputes, bad faith, appeals and class action litigation, the firm said in a release.

The release continues:

"We are a diverse group of women who work well together for our clients," said attorney Karla Roush, who has been with the firm since its inception. "Meloney has cultivated a firm culture that commands respect and collaboration among our group."

As an author and presenter on insurance issues and the law, Perry often conducts Continuing Education seminars for clients. A well-known insurance coverage and defense attorney in Dallas with over 20 years of experience in her practice area, she is the chair of the Insurance Law Section of the State Bar of Texas, where she oversees the Journal of Texas Insurance Law.