

Presidential Historian Doris Kearns Goodwin to Offer Insights on Leadership at Dallas Event

Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Doris Kearns Goodwin will speak in Dallas on Sept. 26, 2018, as part of her national tour a week after the release of her new book, "Leadership: In Turbulent Times." The program is presented in partnership between the World Affairs Council of Dallas/Fort Worth and the Dallas Museum of Art, and its sole sponsor is the law firm of Shackelford, Bowen, McKinley & Norton, LLP.

"Ms. Goodwin is on everybody's short list of America's greatest historians. Every appearance she has made in Dallas over the last two decades has sold out quickly. We expect the same with this event and are pleased to help make her upcoming program in Dallas a success," said Shackelford partner Talmage Boston, who will serve as the evening's master of ceremonies. "'Leadership' reflects an expansion of certain points made in her previous biographies of Presidents Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Lyndon B. Johnson, bringing together five decades of her research and analysis, and providing specific takeaway points on leadership that should inspire actual and aspiring leaders with lessons gained from some of America's greatest presidential leaders."

The event will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 26 at Temple Emanu-El, 8500 Hillcrest Rd., Dallas. Tickets are available through the DMA and the World Affairs Council. A copy of Goodwin's book "Leadership: In Turbulent Times" is included in the price of admission.
