

Lando & Anastasi and Partner Ranked By World Trademark Review

Lando & Anastasi, LLP recently announced that partner Ann Lamport Hammitte has been recognized for the third consecutive year by World Trademark Review (WTR) as one of the world's top trademark practitioners, and she is once again highly ranked for trademark enforcement and litigation, as well as for prosecution and strategy.

L&A is one of sixteen Massachusetts firms selected for inclusion in the WTR 1000, their annual listing of the world's leading trademark professionals. This year marks the 10th year that the firm and its attorneys have been named to this select group, the firm said in a release.
