

Bradley Named Benchmark Litigation's 2019 Mississippi Firm of The Year

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP announced that Benchmark Litigation has named the firm its 2019 Mississippi Litigation Firm of the Year. The firm was honored Feb. 28 at the annual awards dinner in New York.

Bradley was one of four finalists for the award, which recognizes litigation firms in each state based on the significance of their representations. The firm also was a finalist for Alabama and Tennessee Litigation Firm of the Year. The state honors are part of the seventh annual Benchmark Litigation U.S. Awards, with nominees chosen based upon research conducted between March and November 2018. Benchmark Litigation determines its annual rankings through peer reviews and case examinations.

"It is a tremendous honor for Bradley to be recognized by Benchmark Litigation as Mississippi's Litigation Firm of the Year for 2019," said Bradley Chairman of the Board and Managing Partner Jonathan M. Skeeters. "Our robust litigation teams across all Bradley's offices are highly regarded for their skills and keen understanding of the law and business when trying cases in courtrooms or negotiating settlements to benefit our clients."

Bradley Jackson Office Managing Partner Margaret Oertling Cupples said, "We are very proud of the reputations of our firm's Jackson-based lawyers who are dedicated to providing a full range of litigation and other legal services to our clients. This award is a testament to our work that has earned high praise from our clients over many years."

It was announced in October 2018 that 49 Bradley partners across all the firm's offices were recognized in the 2019 edition of Benchmark Litigation, which also listed Bradley as a "highly recommended" firm. A leading guide to litigation firms and attorneys in the United States and Canada and the only publication that exclusively covers the litigation and disputes market in the United States, Benchmark Litigation "highly recommended" Bradley in Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee, and "recommended" the firm in North Carolina.
