

FisherBroyles Welcomes New Partner Radha V. Bachman in Tampa, Florida

Radha V. Bachman has joined FisherBroyles, LLP as a partner in the firm's Tampa office. Bachman represents health care clients across the spectrum in corporate, transactional and regulatory matters. Her clients include hospitals and health systems, physicians, ambulatory surgery centers and senior living facilities.

Bachman serves on the Florida Bar Health Law Certification Committee as well as the Health Law Executive Council. As a former member of the America Health Lawyers Association's Women's Leadership Counsel and a Leadership Council on Legal Diversity 2017 Fellow, Bachman is often asked to speak on issues involving mentoring and diversity in the legal profession.

"We are excited to have Radha join the firm and expand our footprint in Florida. She is a highly respected and accomplished health care transactional attorney who adds further strength to our established health and pharmacy law group. Our healthcare team is diverse enough to handle just about any legal matter faced by an entity or individual operating in this space," said Daniel Weidenbruch, FisherBroyles Florida Managing Partner.

"Attorneys are beginning to realize that the Law Firm 2.0® platform provides them the opportunity to prosper while concentrating on meeting their clients' needs without the usual maladies of BigLaw," said FisherBroyles Co-Founder and Managing Partner James M. Fisher, II. "Our focus on leveraging advanced technology to transform the practice of law has provided FisherBroyles with a platform that continues to attract the highest caliber of legal talent from traditional law firms and provides high-quality, cost-effective legal services that benefit our clients and partners.”

Prior to joining FisherBroyles, Bachman was a partner at Carlton Fields and an associate at Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney, both in Tampa. She has developed a niche practice in health care licensing matters as well as hospital operations and physician practice matters.

“I am thrilled to be taking a proactive step towards being better able to address my clients’ needs in a value-driven model while also having access to a platform of accomplished partner attorneys who have the pedigrees and training to handle matters of every size and scope. FisherBroyles is a perfect fit for me in terms of culture, client-centeredness and professional values,” said Bachman. “Leveraging the cutting-edge technologies and practices of FisherBroyles will enable me to increase my responsiveness and client service while maintaining my commitment to providing the highest quality legal representation to both existing and future clients.”

Bachman received her J.D. from University of Florida, Fredric G. Levin College of Law and her undergraduate degree from Vanderbilt University. She is Board Certified in Health Law by the Florida Bar and has been consistently recognized as a Florida Super Lawyer. She is also licensed as a Health Care Risk Manager in Florida.
