

Kathryn C. Cole Elected As a New York Bar Foundation Fellow

Kathryn (Katy) C. Cole of Farrell Fritz has been named a Fellow of The New York Bar Foundation.

Cole, a resident of Garden City, New York, is a partner in the firm's commercial litigation practice group. She earned her J.D., magna cum laude, from St. John's University School of Law and her B.A. from Colgate University. She is the founder of, and sole contributor to Farrell Fritz's All About eDiscovery blog.

Fellows are nominated by peers and recognized for distinguished achievement, dedication to the legal profession, and commitment to the organized bar and service to the public. "Being a Fellow of The New York Bar Foundation is an honor," states chair of the Fellows Emily F. Franchina. "Fellows represent one percent of the New York State Bar Association membership. Being nominated and elected is a notable achievement."
