

Litigator Bryan J. Johnson Joins Dykema's Chicago Office

National law firm Dykema announced the addition of Bryan J. Johnson to its Litigation Department as a member in the firm's Chicago office. Prior to joining Dykema, Johnson practiced in the Chicago office of Cozen O'Connor (formerly Meckler Bulger Tilson Marick & Pearson LLP).

The firm's news release continues:

In his practice, Johnson helps businesses resolve disputes with a focus on complex commercial, professional liability, construction and employment litigation matters. In addition to his litigation work, Johnson also counsels corporate clients regarding a broad range of transactional matters, including business formation, contract negotiation, strategic organizational and operational considerations, and provides risk assessment and risk minimization advice.

"We are extremely happy to welcome Bryan to our Chicago office," said Michael Borders, Vice Chairman of Dykema and Office Managing Member of the firm's Chicago office. "His broad experience in litigation strengthens our deep bench in Chicago and across our platform."

Bryan is an active member of the Chicago Bar Association, having previously served as Chair, Vice Chair, and Legislative Liaison to its Commercial Litigation Committee.

Johnson received his J.D. from the DePaul University College of Law, and a B.S., cum laude, in Finance from Truman State University.
