

Perkins Coie Names Danielle M. Ryman Managing Partner in Anchorage

Perkins Coie announced that Danielle M. Ryman has been named managing partner of the firm's Anchorage office. Danielle succeeds Eric Fjelstad, who served in the role since 2007.

In a release, the firm said Ryman, a partner in the firm's Labor & Employment practice, works with clients on workplace issues, including executive employment agreements, pay equity, restrictive covenants and enforcements, privacy, and internal investigations. She has experience with the Family and Medical Leave Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Fair Pay Act and equivalent state laws.

As a trial lawyer, she has defended cases to verdict in state and federal courts, the firm said. She also serves as management-side labor counsel in collective bargaining, representation before the NLRB, and counseling on strategic union relationships.
