Andrew Sniegowski explains that Gullett v. Kindred Nursing Centers West, LLC arose out of the plaintiff's claims that a rehabilitation center had abused and neglected his father, who lived there for the last month of his life. The plaintiff argued that the arbitration agreement was substantively and procedurally unconscionable.

The court determined that the agreement was substantively valid, but it remanded the case for further proceedings in the court limited trial to the issue o f procedural unconscionability.
