

Mitratech recognizes Elevate as a Certified Partner for Legal Invoice Review Services

Mitratech, a provider of Enterprise Legal Management (ELM) solutions, has recognized legal service provider Elevate as a Certified Partner to offer legal bill review services to Mitratech's fast-growing client base.

"Our leading spend management and e-Billing systems automate much of the invoicing process and can save up to 10% in legal costs, but even more value is generated when a team consistently reviews the adjustments made by the technology. We have found that many clients don't have the time or resources to take this on, and Elevate's services address precisely that need," noted Jason Parkman, CEO of Mitratech.

In a release, the company said several Mitratech clients already use Elevate's services and have achieved several benefits, including:

- 3–10% additional cost savings as a result of more sophisticated and consistent review
- Reassignment of in-house staff to other valuable work within the department
- Reduced cycle time between invoice receipt and payment, enabling early payment discounts
- Enhanced invoice management and cost control processes
