2020 Definitive Risk & Compliance Benchmark Report

Navex Global — Discover the trends and behaviors that influence program effectiveness.

In our second annual definitive benchmark report, our experts analyze the trends defining and influencing the risk and compliance industry. Comparing year-over-year data, our 2020 report identifies key findings regarding program priorities, use of technology, leadership buy-in, and other program elements. This year, the report takes the data even further to also quantify the impact of those elements on program performance and success.

The data in this report represents detailed responses from professionals who actively manage or influence their program's hotline and incident management, policy and procedure management, ethics and compliance training, and/or third-party risk management functions.
