

Alternative Investments: Opportunities in Energy Investing

✖ Sutherland Asbill & Brennan have posted a complimentary webinar on current trends in alternative investing in the commodities sector, particularly energy, for insurers, pension funds and other institutional investors.

With recent changes in the marketplace for physical commodities trading, project development and finance, it is important to consider how such changes have resulted in the burgeoning demand for investment capital, structural issues, and the regulatory framework for alternative investments for insurers and other regulated investors, including the Dodd-Frank Act, CFTC, SEC, and state insurance regulations, Sutherland says on its website.

This webinar consists of an informative and interactive discussion on the current trends in alternative investing in the commodities sector, particularly energy, for insurers, pension funds and other institutional investors.

Speakers include Frank Conley, Managing Director of Freepoint Commodities, Marietta Moshiaashvili, Managing Director of TIAA-CREF, and Sutherland Partners David McIndoe and Thomas Warren.
