

Analyzing the New $60 Billion Contract Opportunity

❌ Bloomberg Government in partnership with the Coalition for Government Procurement offers a free on-demand webinar previewing the structure, scope and competitive landscape on OASIS multiple-award contracts.

On its website, Bloomberg says that in late May, the General Services Administration (GSA) announced the final awardees on their long-awaited OASIS multiple-award contracts (MACs), expected to become the largest professional services program in the federal government. OASIS offers opportunities worth $60 billion in task orders during the next decade, but with significant uncertainty in the market where do we go from here?

Topics include:

- The structure of OASIS and its relation to other contract vehicles
- The type of work that is likely to shift towards OASIS
- Analysis of awardees and a preview of the competitive landscape
- Prospects for small businesses
- A preview of the top agencies that are likely to use OASIS
