Anomalies, Hacks, Lateral Moves: Monitor and Address Information Risks

 Intapp Inc. presents a free on-demand webinar discussing new technologies and regulations that are forcing law firms to take a serious look at activity monitoring and data loss prevention software.

Client guidelines and security audits mandate that firms have visibility into who does what with their data, new regulations like HIPAA require activity monitoring on personally identifiable information, lawyers increasingly use unsanctioned cloud tools without notifying IT and, with lateral movement on the rise, firm management needs a means to identify unauthorized activity to avert potential problems.

In this session, we will explore how firms can leverage technology to monitor and address information risks. Hear from panelists who will present diverse perspectives, ranging from cyber insurance and regulatory trends to process and technical best practices.
