

Apple Blocks Class-Action Status in User App Store Fee Suit

“Apple Inc. blocked an antitrust lawsuit over App Store fees filed by a handful of iPhone users from being expanded to include millions of customers across the U.S.,” reports Malathi Nayak in Bloomberg.

“U.S. District Judge Dale Fischer in Los Angeles approved the consent degree between the company and the EEOC over the objections of the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing, which has a separate lawsuit pending against Activision in state court on similar claims. Fischer’s approval came a day after the Ninth Circuit.”
