

Arron Nesbitt and Linda Knight Join Wilson Elser's Denver Office

National law firm Wilson Elser announced that Arron Nesbitt, partner, and Linda Knight, of counsel, have joined the firm's Denver office.

"Arron and Linda are excellent additions to the firm," said Joseph Bermudez, regional managing partner of Wilson Elser's Denver office. "Their abilities as litigators in several of our key practice areas will add tremendous value to Wilson Elser and for our clients."

Formerly a partner with Taylor Anderson LLP in Denver, Nesbitt focuses his practice in the areas of wrongful death, catastrophic personal injury, mass tort and other complex matters in state and federal courts nationally, routinely for product liability and trucking clients.

Nesbitt also is a trial attorney, averaging one jury or bench trial per year over the course of his 17-year career.

Admitted to practice in Arizona, California, Colorado and Texas, Nesbitt also serves as defense counsel for excess carriers in specialty insurance litigation and has served as national product liability counsel for various manufacturers of automobiles, medical devices, stun guns and other products.

Nesbitt, who is AV Preeminent rated by Martindale-Hubbell, obtained his B.A. degree from Northern Arizona University (1993) and his J.D. degree from Golden Gate University School of Law (1999).

Knight, previously an associate with Taylor Anderson, practices in a variety of civil litigation defense areas, including specialty insurance litigation for primary and excess carriers, premises liability, product liability, tort defense, real estate litigation and general commercial litigation.

Selected for inclusion in Rising Stars for Colorado Super Lawyers, Knight earned her B.A. degree from the University of Denver (2004) and her J.D. degree from the University of Denver Sturm College of Law (2007), where she was a member of the Appellate Team and staff editor of the Transportation Law Journal.
