

Trump's lawyers began the impeachment trial with a blizzard of lies

"The opening debate of the Senate impeachment trial on Tuesday afternoon was supposed to be merely about the trial rules. But members of President Donald Trump's legal team wasted no time telling a number of lies before things really got going." reports Vox.

"Though getting facts wrong might be somewhat understandable in the context of extemporaneous statements, these falsehoods came in the context of prepared remarks read by White House counsel Pat Cipollone and personal Trump attorney Jay Sekulow."
