Ashish Mahendru Earns Repeat Selection to The Best Lawyers in America

HOUSTON – Houston trial lawyer Ashish Mahendru has once again earned selection to the list of The Best Lawyers in America. Honored for his work in employment law –management, this is the third consecutive year Mr. Mahendru has been named to the list.

As the founder of Mahendru P.C., Mr. Mahendru has built a legal specialty navigating complex disputes between business partnerships before state and federal courts. He represents both employers and employees in litigation cases involving employment agreements, non-competition agreements, trade secret issues, severance agreements, wrongful terminations, and alleged violations of the Fair Standards Labor Act.

“To be included among this prestigious group of top practitioners is a great honor,” said Mr. Mahendru. “While we are driven by our dedication to serving clients, it is gratifying to know our peers also recognize the great work this firm generates. Thank you to everyone who provided testimonials and feedback to the Best Lawyers team and ultimately contributed to our placement on this year’s list.”

His expertise in the employment law realm has allowed him to serve as a regular contributor and commentator for trade publications and media outlets. Most recently, Mr. Mahendru was featured in the healthcare publication Part B News weighing in on furlough strategies for private physician groups. He also wrote on trade secrets litigation and the declining use of noncompete agreements for Texas Lawyer
