

Athletes First Announces Eric Schaffer as New General Counsel

“On a day that the Washington Football Team hired a new President of the organization, the man that was thought to be a perfect fit for that role when Bruce Allen was removed, has a new executive leadership position,” reports Chris Russell in SI’s Washington Football News.

“Eric Schaffer served the Washington organization for 17 years in a variety of roles but most recently as the Senior Vice President of Football Operations and General Counsel.”

“Athletes First, a top sports representation firm, officially announced Monday the hiring of Schaffer as a member of its senior leadership team.”
