

Avoiding Claims and Disputes in Construction Contracts

✘ Baker Tilly will present a free webinar on how to avoid construction contract claims as a part of the firm's "Understanding construction contract controls and construction audit best practices" series.

The webinar will be Wednesday, Oct. 8, beginning at noon Central time.

Conflict and disagreements are normal on construction projects, Baker Tilly says on its website. When everyday disagreements escalate into unresolvable issues, claims and disputes may result. This webinar will provide owners an overview of strategies for identifying potential claims scenarios and remedies available to mitigate claims.

The firm says this case study presentation will illustrate to webinar participants: Contract terms protecting the owner, conditions that lead to claims and disputes, and remedies not requiring legal action.

Register for the webinar.