

Ball Janik Welcomes Attorney Elijah C. Waring, Jr. to the Firm's Miami Office

Ball Janik LLP, a construction defect and property damage law firm with offices in Florida and Oregon, is pleased to announce the addition of Elijah C. Waring, Jr. to the firm as an associate in its Miami office. The addition of Waring is part of the firm's continued growth and commitment to its clients.

Waring brings several years of legal experience to the firm. Prior to joining Ball Janik, Waring provided general and complex litigation to corporations involving premises liability, product liability, negligent security, wrongful death, and multidistrict litigation.

At Ball Janik, Waring works in the firm's Construction Defect and Litigation practice groups where he represents owners and community associations in construction defect claims.

Waring graduated from Kennesaw State University with a degree in political science and legal studies. He received his JD degree from the University of Miami School of Law, where he competed as a member of the Charles C. Papy, Jr. Moot Court Board and the Miami Law Trial Team. Waring also served as a judicial intern to the Honorable R. Fred Lewis in the Florida Supreme Court, and later as a legal fellow in the University of Miami School of Law Health Rights Clinic. He is a member of the Florida Bar Association Young Lawyers Division.
