

Bell Nunnally Grows Corporate Practice

Bell Nunnally & Martin LLP has added Adam A. Litwin and Van S. Wiltz as associates. Both join the firm's growing corporate practice.

"Both Adam and Van come to the firm with impressive backgrounds. Their diverse professional experiences enhance our knowledge base," said James Skochdopole, managing partner of Bell Nunnally. "As our client needs evolve and expand, we continue to look for dynamic, skilled practitioners to add to our team."

Litwin joins the firm's Corporate and Securities; Entertainment, Advertising and New Media; and Mergers and Acquisitions practice areas. He has extensive experience providing counsel on a wide variety of business transactions and corporate governance issues. He works closely with clients of all sizes, from individuals and small start-ups to multinational public corporations on issues including drafting and negotiating agreements and forming, structuring and advising start-up businesses in industries including entertainment, retail and technology.

Prior to joining Bell Nunnally, Litwin worked in the corporate finance section for Haynes and Boone, LLP before becoming a founding and managing member of the Litwin Law Group, PLLC. Before practicing law, he was a financial advisor at Morgan Stanley.

In addition to his legal practice, Litwin is an actor, producer and screenwriter. He is a member of the Entertainment and Sports Law Section of the State Bar of Texas and is the legal chair of the Texas Association of Motion Media Professionals. Litwin is a graduate of Florida State University College of Law (J.D., 2007) and the University of Rochester (B.A., 2001).

Wiltz is a member of the firm's Corporate and Securities and Mergers and Acquisitions practice areas. He has extensive experience in corporate governance and capital market, private equity and venture capital transactions. He also structures mergers, acquisitions and dispositions of securities and assets and is proficient in the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act pre-acquisition compliance. He serves as counsel to public and start-up companies in various industries, including oil field services, oil and gas exploration and production, insurance and financial services.

Prior to joining Bell Nunnally, Wiltz worked in the Corporate and Securities practice group for Thompson & Knight LLP. He is a member of several professional organizations and is a frequent author and speaker on the topics of equity-crowdfunding and compliance with SEC rules and regulations.

Wiltz is a graduate of Loyola University New Orleans College of Law (J.D., 2012) and the University of North Texas (B.A., 2008).
