

New Contract Management Software Video Goes Online

Berkman Solutions has posted a video provideing an introduction to contract management software and the company's product, Contract Analyst.

The company provides software and services for legal and compliance risk management.

Berkman Solutions says that since it began more than10 years ago with its contract management software, Contract Analyst, its team has managed, negotiated and drafted almost $4 billion in contracts, agreements, and licenses across industries and around the world.

"Berkman Solutions are recognized experts on contracts, risks, due diligence, and legal entities," the company says in a release. "We are lawyers, compliance experts, and business people first; technologists, second."

Watch the video.