

Beware the Contract Clause Loading US Workers with Debt

“Graduating From Petsmart’s Grooming Academy early last year should have been a proud day for animal lover BreAnn Scally. It offered a path into full-time work with animals and brought her a step closer to her dream of opening her own animal sanctuary. It also propelled her into a protracted,” reports Caitlin Harrington in Wired.

“On its website and in job postings and tweets, PetSmart promoted the training as a perk of employment that provided close supervision working with 200 different dogs in its FREE, paid Grooming Academy an exclusive 4 week, 160-hour-long program that is valued up to $6,000! But according to a lawsuit filed against PetSmart.”

Read the article.