

Beyond Traditional Contract Management

- ✘ Revitas offers an on-demand webcast on measuring post-execution contract performance.

Analyzing the performance of a contract post signature provides organizations the opportunity to better understand just how productive each contract truly is, Revitas says on its website.

Contract processes, terms, and conditions must be optimized and carefully managed in order to continually develop agreements that will drive business – and ultimately result in ongoing success. Top executives simply can't risk company success on contracts they can't evaluate.

The webinar covers:

- Why measuring contract performance benefits the overall lifecycle
- Key post-execution metrics to track
- Best practices for measuring contract performance
- Transforming metrics into actionable insight

View the webinar.