

Biglaw Firm Ensures Fun Friday for Associates with Early Morning Money Match Memo

“What’s a fun way to ensure your associates will not only have a fabulous Friday but a wonderful weekend as well? How about an early morning memo about their shiny new salaries? That’s exactly what the latest firm to match Milbank’s new salary scale did just a few short hours ago. Thanks to,” reports Staci Zaretsky in Above The Law.

“There’s yet again a new prevailing salary scale, and Biglaw firms are racing to increase their own salaries in response to the move. Which firm is the latest to adopt $215,000 as its new starting salary? That would be Fried Frank, a firm that’s currently ranked at No. 60 on the Am Law 100. The firm took about a week to match the,”

Read the article.