

Biglaw Firm Makes Monday a Fun Day with Special Bonuses and Salary Increases

“If you’re an associate who’s got a major case of the Mondays, there’s nothing that’ll boost your motivation like an announcement that not only will your firm be raising salaries across the board for all associates but it will also be doling out special bonuses for some Kasowitz Benson Torres had,” reports Staci Zaretsky in Above The Law.

“Having taken out a PPP loan one which the firm has not yet disclosed if it’s been forgiven, but finished up the year with $219,396,000 gross revenue, landing it in 142nd place in the most recent Am Law 100 ranking. The firm is just now getting around to joining peer firms for special bonuses and commensurate salary increases.”
