

Biglaw Firm Offers $20,000 Bonus For New Associates Who Don't Even Work There Yet

Boies Schiller & Flexner announced bank breaking bonuses, but they aren't done spreading the good news, reports Kathryn Rubino in Above the Law's Biglaw.

"BSF has revealed a new program designed to make it a little easier for those that are on the precipice of starting their legal career. Though they've yet to start work at the firm (they're scheduled to start next month), they're still sharing in the firm's successes – to the tune of $20,000. That's right: incoming associates will receive sizable welcoming bonuses at BSF."

Read the article.