

Biglaw Firms Score with Historic Offer and Acceptance Rates for Summer Associate Recruitment

“For the past few years, law student recruitment for summer associate programs has been incredibly successful, harkening back to a time when law students quickly accepted the offers that Biglaw firms handed out like candy. Amid an unprecedented cash rush for associates and high demand for,” reports Staci Zaretsky in Above The Law.

“The 2021 recruitment cycle was no different offers were plentiful, and acceptance of those offers was even higher. Things are going smashingly well in the Biglaw sphere when it comes to recruitment. According to the latest recruiting figures from the National Association for Law Placement NALP, offer rates from Biglaw summer.”

Read the article.