

Bloom Credit Names David Breland as General Counsel, Head of Risk and Compliance

“Bloom Credit, an API platform company that helps businesses integrate with the credit bureaus, today announced David Breland, former General Counsel of Simple Finance Technology Corp., has joined Bloom Credit as General Counsel, Head of Risk and Compliance. Prior to Simple Finance Technology,” reports PR Newswire in their blog.

“David held multiple positions in the legal department of BBVA USA, where he supported fintech ventures, engineering, and the commercial banking groups. Previous to joining BBVA USA, David practiced law at Burr & Forman LLP. David obtained degrees from LaGrange College and Cumberland School of Law at Samford.”

Read the article.