

Boutique Firm Beats Biglaw's Year-End Bonuses Again

"Biglaw's been out there throwing around money to associates in the face of a busy year and a hot lateral market. But they aren't the only ones with big money to share. Kaplan Hecker & Fink, an elite litigation boutique founded only a few years ago by Roberta Kaplan, announced their own bonuses. And," reports Kathryn Rubino in Above The Law

"Even adding in the special bonuses some firms are giving out, the numbers at Kaplan Hecker are better. And though the firm is young, this isn't the first time the firm has beaten the market. In memory of extended members of the firm, they'll be matching donations to the St. John's Family Center. Plus Kaplan Hecker is going to match up."

Read the article.