BP’s Energy Outlook 2035

- BP has posted a free on-demand webinar mark the publication of the BP Energy Outlook 2035 (2015 edition).

The webinar features Bob Dudley, group chief executive, and Spencer Dale, group chief economist.

The study conducted by BP found that continuous change is the norm for energy markets, particularly in a changing energy mix, changing energy trade patterns, and possible changes to the carbon emissions path.

The on-demand presentation includes a recorded question and answer session.
