Bradley Partner Chuck Stewart Joins Prestigious American Board of Trial Advocates

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (Jan. 27, 2020) – Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is pleased to announce that Chuck Stewart, a partner in the firm's Montgomery office and co-chair of the firm's Product Liability team, has accepted an invitation to join the American Board of Trial Advocates (ABOTA).

The ABOTA is a national organization of trial lawyers with 97 chapters in all 50 U.S. states. Selection for membership into ABOTA carries with it considerable prestige among attorneys, judges and legislators.

"We congratulate Chuck on his earned membership with the American Board of Trial Advocates," said Bradley Montgomery Office Managing Partner Bobby Poundstone. "Chuck is a well-known litigation leader in the nation who is responsible for many major trial successes for our clients."

A member of Bradley's Litigation Practice Group, Mr. Stewart has been a trial lawyer for more than 30 years. He has successfully tried a vast number of cases, primarily in the defense of corporations in product liability, employment, business disputes, class actions, intellectual property, antitrust, construction, and catastrophic personal injury matters. He has represented clients in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Massachusetts, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, and Utah.

Mr. Stewart also speaks regularly on topics within his areas of practice. He has been very active in practice-related organizations such as the DRI, IADC, FDCC, and ALFA International. He served on the board of DRI and as chair of the DRI’s Product Liability Committee, and formerly served as president of the Alabama Defense Lawyers Association.
