

Bradley Partner Tripp Haston Named 2022 WWL Global Elite Thought Leader

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is pleased to announce that Tripp Haston, a partner in the firm's Birmingham office, has been named a 2022 Global Elite Thought Leader in the area of product liability defense by Who's Who Legal (WWL).

The sixth edition of the WWL Thought Leaders: Global Elite includes a total of 27 attorneys recognized in product liability defense, with only 10 of those attorneys located in the United States. The guide focuses on individuals who obtained the highest number of nominations from peers, corporate counsel and other market sources during the research cycle. Honorees have demonstrated a high level of work, as well as an ability to innovate, inspire and go above and beyond to deliver for their clients.

"We congratulate Tripp on his continued recognition by Who's Who Legal for his product liability defense work," said Bradley Chairman of the Board and Managing Partner Jonathan M. Skeeters. "It is a tremendous accomplishment to be considered among the top in your field, and Tripp's inclusion in this prestigious list is a testament to his legal skill and to his commitment to providing exceptional client service."

Mr. Haston is chair of the firm's Life Sciences Litigation team and a member of the Product Liability team where he represents a broad spectrum of clients on regional, national and international engagements. He has served as national trial and coordinating counsel and as a national team member in individual actions, as well as in mass tort and multidistrict litigation. Mr. Haston has handled matters throughout the United States, Europe, Asia and South America.

Bradley's acclaimed Product Liability team represents clients in a variety of industries and jurisdictions throughout the state and federal court systems. Their representations involve litigation over a diverse range of consumer products, including tires, construction equipment, pharmaceuticals, medical devices, vehicles (both on- and off-road), component parts, industrial equipment, power tools and building products. These attorneys frequently serve in leadership roles on the legal defense teams for clients navigating litigation and mass claim matters.
