

Bradley's David Vance Lucas Named North America Leader of the World Services Group Trade and Investment Practice Group

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is pleased to announce that David Vance Lucas, a partner in the firm's Huntsville office, has been named the North America Leader for the World Services Group (WSG) Trade and Investment Practice Group.

The WSG is a global network of elite global practice firms comprised of more than 23,000 members in more than 150 jurisdictions throughout the United States and Canada. The WSG's groups help to facilitate the exchange of business and knowledge about current developments and opportunities in specific areas of practice, providing webinars and discussions featuring members and industry leaders each month.

"We congratulate David on this opportunity to further his commitment to the global legal industry and demonstrate his leadership through this international role with the World Services Group," said Bradley Huntsville Office Managing Partner Frank M. Caprio.

Mr. Lucas provides legal strategy for technology and business, applying technological and operational experience to craft strategic advice on a variety of intellectual property, international trade and complex litigation matters – to both U.S. businesses abroad and non-U.S. businesses' operations in the U.S. His experience includes serving as general counsel to an international technology company, and a laboratory software company.

Mr. Lucas is a frequent author and speaker on intellectual property, national security and foreign direct investment issues, and leads Bradley's International and Cross Border team.
