

Braumiller Law Group Webinar Series on Cuba/Mexico

Braumiller Law Group will sponsor a series of webinars on subjects relating to trade law with Cuba and Mexico.

The first, "Maquiladoras: What's next on the A, AA, and AAA certification?", will be Thursday, May 21, beginning at 10 a.m. The webinar will cover how IMMEX and other bonded warehouses can keep their certification in compliance, and how these companies can continue on saving fiscal taxes.

"Cuban Sanctions" What's on the horizon?" will be Tuesday, June 9, at 10 a.m. This webinar, led by Mexico Attorney Brenda Cordova, will discuss the recent changes in the Cuban Assets Control Regulations, including what is now permitted, what remains prohibited, and what remains uncertain. This webinar will also address the potential impact of the recent changes on business relations between the U.S. and Cuba and the practical challenges confronting businesses seeking to enter the Cuban market. Attorney Devin Sefton will lead the discussion.

"Computed value and why they are used in maquila import transactions," the third webinar, will be Tuesday, July 7, at 10 a.m. The webinar will review the hierarchy of Customs valuation methods and present scenarios of maquila transactions where a few different types of value methods apply. The presenter will be attorney Jennifer Horvath.

General Counsel News readers may participate in the webinars at no charge by emailing Tracey Lloyd at tracey@braumillerlaw.com and mentioning that you are a GCN reader.
