

Brink's Appoints General Counsel from in-House

"The Brink's Company has promoted Lindsay Blackwood to become executive vice president and general counsel. Blackwood joined NYSE-listed Brink's in 2012 as assistant general counsel and held that position until last year, when she became vice president and associate general counsel. She," reports Ben Maiden in Corporate Secretary.

"Before joining Brink's, Blackwood was associate chief counsel and corporate secretary at Cigna Corporation from 2006 to 2012. Doug Pertz, president and CEO of Brink's, says in a statement, Since joining Brink's, Lindsay has provided sound guidance to the Brink's executive leadership team, as well as our board of directors and its."

Read the article.