Buchalter Promotes Eight Attorneys to Shareholder

Buchalter announced eight of their attorneys have been promoted to Shareholder.

These promotions cover a variety of practice areas and locations, showcasing the scope of Buchalter’s reach. The attorneys include Sarah Andrzejczak from Denver, who specializes in Litigation and Labor & Employment.

Brandon Carr in San Francisco, emphasizing Litigation. Devan McCarty in Sacramento, who has expertise in both Litigation and Healthcare.

Chadwick McCombs in Los Angeles doing Corporate law. Jarret Osborne-Revis in Sacramento tackling Litigation and Insolvency.

Alexandra Shulman, who’s working across Seattle and Portland in Labor and Employment.

Khaled Tarazi from Scottsdale, handling insolvency, and Kripa Upadhyay in Seattle, concentrating on Immigration and International Trade Compliance.

The firm really wants to highlight that these promotions are part of its commitment to identifying and nurturing legal talent across its national offices.

We are incredibly proud to promote this outstanding group of attorneys from across the Firm. We look forward to their continued success and career growth at Buchalter,” added Bass.

Buchalter is a law firm having nearly 600 attorneys spread over ten states, covering all practice areas like Litigation, healthcare, Insolvency, corporate law, and employment law.

For more information about the firm, visit: buchalter.com.