Buchalter Welcomes Kendall Woods in Chicago as a Shareholder

Buchalter is excited to announce that Kendall Woods has joined the firm's Litigation Practice Group as a Shareholder in the Chicago office.

Kendall brings exceptional experience in construction and commercial litigation," said Adam Bass, President and CEO of Buchalter. "Her addition strengthens our Chicago presence and expands our strong foundation of top-tier talent in key practice areas."

Kendall Woods focuses her practice on construction law, representing owners, developers, contractors, and subcontractors across the nation. She specializes in negotiating construction contracts, advising on risk mitigation, and assisting clients in navigating all phases of litigation and dispute resolution.

Her experience includes handling disputes related to delay and lost productivity, design and construction defects, and wrongful termination. She also has expertise in insurance coverage and construction injury litigation. In addition to construction matters, Kendall has significant experience in commercial and business litigation. She is also well-versed in disputes involving copyright and trademark, aviation, product liability, premises liability, and corporate litigation.

I was attracted to Buchalter because of its strong reputation and diverse practice areas that complement my own, said Woods. "The firm's national platform allows me to offer a broader range of services to clients in both construction and litigation."

Kendall is known for her hands-on, client-focused approach. She emphasizes early involvement to prevent disputes and ensures clients are informed at every stage. When early resolution isn’t possible, she’s a dedicated advocate with a proven track record of favorable litigation outcomes.

She is a valuable addition to our growing team in Chicago,” said Tom Jefson, Managing Shareholder of Buchalter’s Chicago office. “She brings the strategic counsel that aligns with our commitment to high-level service as we continue to expand and establish our presence here.”

Since opening in January 2025, Buchalter’s Chicago office has grown to include about 25 attorneys and 11 support staff. The firm plans further growth shortly.
