Cash Management for Government Contractors

NeoSystems Corp. has posted a free on-demand webinar on how to forecast, plan and optimize cash flow and cash management for government contractors.

Whether you're looking to fund your growth or just meet payroll, every government contractor – big and small – needs to manage cash, NeoSystems says on its website.

"Consider the cash flow challenges of managing your contracts: the timeline for paying your employees versus the timeline of billing your clients and waiting for your invoice to be paid can stress anyone's cash reserves. Add additional contract wins to the mix and many companies find themselves cash constrained at best. Not to fear – these challenges can be overcome by effectively managing your cash flow," NeoSystems says.
