Chris Stecher Joins Frost Brown Todd as Partner in San Francisco

Chris Stecher has joined Frost Brown Todd office as a partner in its Business & Commercial Litigation practice San Francisco. He has over 20 years of experience in securities, employment, and complex business litigation.

Stecher's addition marks a continued expansion of Frost Brown Todd's (FBT) presence in California. He previously practiced at Keesal, Young & Logan, where he represented brokerage firms and financial advisors in FINRA arbitrations, as well as employers in a range of employment disputes, including discrimination, retaliation, and wage and hour cases.

At FBT, Stecher will manage litigation matters from pre-suit investigation through trial and appeal. His experience includes handling cases involving trade secrets, breach of contract, and trademark infringement, as well as arguing before the California Courts of Appeal and briefing before the Ninth Circuit.

He also advises clients on employment issues such as compensation, non-compete laws, and compliance with local, state, and federal regulations.

Stecher currently serves as President-Elect of the Federal Bar Association's Northern District of California Chapter and is on the board of California ChangeLawyers.

FBT is a national law firm with over 600 attorneys across multiple states, including offices in California, Texas, and Washington, D.C.
