

Construction Controls and Financial Contract Compliance

✘ Baker Tilly has posted an on-demand webinar on strategies and approaches to participating in and performing continuous monitoring of active construction projects.

The complimentary webinar discusses risky areas of the construction process including change order control, pricing, and scope, as well as progress reporting, project controls, contract accounting, business ethics compliance, document compliance, and design, plan, and specifications compliance.

On its website, Baker Tilly says the goal of the webinar is to learn new ideas to help integrate construction auditing techniques into your audit plan such that they become a routine part of your organization's control oversight process.

Panelists are Tony Ollmann, Director, Baker Tilly, and Erik Schuchardt, manager.
