

Whitepaper – 100+ Contract Management Solutions: Do You Have to Try Them All?

ContractWorks has published a complimentary white paper designed to aid in the selection and implementation of a contract management solution.

The company says it interviewed hundreds of companies and compiled a guide to help with the determination of what type of solution best fits a company's needs and tips on how to find it .

The white paper covers:

1. A simple framework for understanding if you need a contract management solution.
2. How to understand your organizations goals and the corresponding contract management features that will have the greatest impact on your process.
3. Ways to narrow down your search for a solution.

Download the white paper.