Whitepaper — 100+ Contract Management Solutions: Do You Have to Try Them All?

ContractWorks has published a complimentary white paper designed to aid in the selection and implementation of a contract management solution.

The company says it interviewed hundreds of companies and compiled a guide to help with the determination of what type of solution best fits a company's needs and tips on how to find it .

The white paper covers:

- 1. A simple framework for understanding if you need a contract management solution.
- 2. How to understand your organizations goals and the corresponding contract management features that will have the greatest impact on your process.
- 3. Ways to narrow down your search for a solution.
