

'Copyright Troll' Richard Liebowitz Suspended from Manhattan Federal Court

"The grievance committee for the Southern District of New York has suspended Richard Liebowitz, a New York lawyer notorious for filing low-value copyright cases on behalf of photographers, from practicing law while it investigates charges against him," reports Caroline Spiezio in Westlaw Today.

"The committee's chair, U.S. District Court Judge Katherine Polk Failla, wrote in a Monday order that the interim suspension was needed to 'protect the public' because of Liebowitz's 'unwillingness to change despite 19 formal sanctions and scores of other admonishments and warnings from judges across the country.'"

"Liebowitz and his counsel, Brian Jacobs of Morvillo Abramowitz Grand Iason & Anello, did not immediately respond to request for comment on Tuesday."
