

Cornell Law Alum Named Homeland Security Head Lawyer

Chad Mizelle J.D.'13 has been appointed to serve as acting General Counsel for the Department of Homeland Security, just seven years after graduating from Cornell Law School, reports Meghana Srivastava in The Cornell Daily Sun.

“Mizelle graduated magna cum laude from Cornell Law School in 2013, where he was active in the Cornell Law Review, according to his LinkedIn profile. He also served as the Mock Trial team’s head coach during the 2012-13 season.”

“Within the past year, Mizelle has worn many legal hats within homeland security, serving as Deputy General Counsel, Chief of Staff and now acting General Counsel.”

Read the article.