

Corporate Ladder: Your Weekly Guide to Executive Appointments

“The Adelaide Economic Development Agency has appointed former Merrill Lynch and Barclays Capital executive Tim Last to its board. Last is currently Partner/Director at Adelaide corporate advisory SRG Partners, where he has worked since May 2020 advising industry clients in agriculture, defence, health,” reports Thomas Kelsall in In Daily.

“He joined SRG after eight years in Hong Kong with stockbrokers Ord Minnett as Head of Sales, Trading and Capital Markets. He also spent nearly two years with Barclays Capital, five years with Merrill Lynch and six years with Macquarie Group in similar executive positions. Last said he was extremely humbled to join the AEDA board.”

Read the article.